DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 33, 39, and 40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sullivan et al (5,820,488). Regarding claim 33, Sullivan discloses a golf ball comprising a core, an intermediate layer and a cover. The intermediate layer has a moisture vapor transmission rate less than the cover (abstract). The golf ball has a diameter of 1.68 inches or more, the intermediate layer has a thickness of no more than 20 mils or 0.02 inch (col. 3, lines 1-5), and the cover layer has a thickness from 25 to 100 mils or 0.025 to 0.1 inch. Regarding claim 39, the intermediate layer has a moisture vapor transmission rate less than 1.5 (col. 6). Regarding claim 40, the intermediate layer has a thickness of no more than 20 mils or 0.02 inch (col. 3, lines 1-5).

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 32 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 17 of U.S. Patent No. 6,632,147. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the '147 patent and present invention claim golf balls comprising a core, an intermediate layer with a moisture transmission rate lower than the cover and means for creating a torturous path across the intermediate layer.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-31 are allowed.

Claims 34-38 and 41-47 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Raeann Gorden whose telephone number is 703-308-8354. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 9-5.
